MEDICAL.

ARE ENDORSED AND PRESCRIBED BY more leading Physicians than any other Tonic or Stimulant now in use. They are

A SURE PREVENTIVE

They are highly recommended as an Anti-Dyspeptic, and in cases of Indigestion are Invaluable. As an Appetizer and Recuperant, and in cases of General Debility they have never in a single instance failed in producing the most happy results. They are particularly Strengthening the body, invigorating the mind, and giving tone and elasticity to the whole system. The Home Bitters are compounded with the greatest care, and no tonic stimulant has ever before been offered to the public so PLEASANT TO THE TASTE and at the same time combining so many remedial agents endorsed by the medical fraternity as the best known to the Pharmacopœia. It costs but little to give them a fair trial, and Every Family Should Have a Bottle.

UNITED STATES MARINE HOSPITAL,

JAMES A. JACKSON & Co— I have examined the formula for making the "Home Stomach Bitters" and used them in this hospital the last four months, I consider them the most valuable tonic and stimulant now in use. S. H. MELCHER, Resident Physician in charge U. S. Marine Hospital.

JAMES A. JACKSON & Co—Gentlemen: As you have communicated to the medical profession the recipe of the "Home Bitters" it cannot therefore be considered as a patent medicine, no patent having been taken for it. We have examined the formula for making the "Home Bitters," and unhesitatingly say the combination is one of rare excellence, all the articles used in its composition are the best of the class to which they belong, being highly tonic Stimulant, Stomachic, Carminative, and slightly Laxative. The mode of preparing them is strictly in accordance with the rules of pharmacy. Having used them, seen their effects in our private practice, we take pleasure in recommending them to all persons desirous of taking Bitters as being the best Tonic and Stimulant now offered to the public.

The State Election.

The Bangor Whig publishes returns from 405 towns, showing an aggregate vote of 100,193 against 93,818 in the same towns last year. In these towns the vote stands as follows;

Sidney Perham	55,489
Charles P. Kimball	44,704
Perham's majority	10,785

Last year the vote was as follows, in these towns;

Sidney Perham	51,201
Charles W. Roberts	42,617
Perham's majority	8,584

This shows a Republican gain of 2201 over the majority of last year. The towns to be heard from will slightly increase the majority for Gov. Perham.

The Senate will consist of 26 Republicans and 5 Democrats. There is some doubt, however, about a Democrat being elected in Hancock county, and the official returns can only decide. In Aroostook, Mr. Irish is elected.

For the House of Representatives we have returns of the election of 111 Republicans and 36 Democrats, with four yet to be heard from—viz. Hancock 2, Knox 1, Washington 1. Last year the House stood 113 Republicans and 38 Democrats.

"Our Later Franklin."

At the present time there are but two men besides Grant who are so much as mentioned as possible Republican candidates for the Presidency. These are Schuyler Colfax and Horace Greeley. It is not worth while to talk of the former since he has already expressed himself so fully and with so much emphasis as friendly to Grant's renomination that any action inconsistent with these professions would place him clearly in the position of an insincere and treacherous politician. He has too often repeated his declaration of an intention to retire from public life at the expiration of the term of his present office to make it possible for him to yield to the importunities of his friends. No doubt there are many who, astonished at the extraordinary spectacle of a public man fleeing from office, who will yell "Colfax" till they are hoarse between this time and next June. But the Vice-President, cannot, as an honorable man, gratify them by entering the lists.

The other name mentioned in connection with the Presidency is that of Horace Greeley—"our later Franklin," as Whittier has well called him in a recent poem. We take it that Mr. Greeley is a candidate. Though he has never owned the soft impeachment in express terms, both he and the Tribune have carefully abstained from anything that could be construed as a denial. Besides, Mr. Greeley is vigorously agitating the subject of a limitation of the tenure of the Presidential office to a single term—an agitation which just now must indicate hostility to Grant's renomination rather than any special depth of conviction as to the general necessity of the reform.

There are several things in Mr. Greeley's favor. He is one of the greatest men that this country now has, or ever had. He has the editorial control of the most influential newspaper ever published on this continent, and by means of that mighty engine he has done more than any other single individual to educate his fellow citizens in the principles of radical, progressive democracy. From the first he has been identified with the party whose nominee he aspires to be, and no man's influence in securing its triumph has been more potent or more constantly excited than his. More important still, he is an honest man. We are aware that there are different opinions on this point, but the preponderance of evidence is so strongly on the side of the man who has been foremost in the cause of human progress for the third of a century, and who during that time has enjoyed the warmest respect and friendship of the purest, most cultivated and most able men and women of the age, that a denial of his moral worth is hardly a rational act.

Having thus done Gen. Grant's chief opponent full justice in conceding to him all those great and good qualities that are claimed for him, we can with the more freedom state his disqualifications for the nomination to which he aspires. If nominated, Mr. Greeley could not by any possibility be elected. His very eminence here places him at a disadvantage. Such a long and conspicuous career as his excited too many prejudices and animosities, personal and political, to make his candidacy practicable. The fact that during all the time the Republican party has had the control in New York his friends have been unable to place him in any position of honor or trust is extremely pertinent and cannot be overlooked. Indeed he is so prominent and well-known a personage that the Republican party may be divided with respect to him into two factions—the friends and the enemies of Greeley. The party is not by any means strong enough to divide and still be able to conquer.

Nor do we advocate Grant's renomination solely on the ground of his greater availability. He is a better President than Mr. Greeley would make. No man who holds extreme views on the subject of the tariff either can be or is fit to be President. Mr. Greeley is the chief of the extreme protectionists. A majority of the American people and even of the Republican party are strongly against him on this issue. The Radicals are divided on the tariff question, and would not give a unanimous support to any man who makes this secondary matter of paramount importance. An out and out free trader, who would even sweep away with the tariff for revenue, could unite the party as well. If there is a discernible tendency either way it is not in the direction in which the editor of the Tribune would lead, but in that of such modifications of the tariff as will best subserve the interest of the treasury without reference to any other consideration. The genuine revenue reformers, (not the political malcontents and disorganizers who call themselves "Revenue Reformers") are in the ascendant.

Nor is Mr. Greeley likely to obtain a very attentive hearing for his sudden outcry in favor of the one term principle. The moment is a most inauspicious one for such a reform, if reform it be. It is one of those times when, if such a constitutional limitation existed, there would be a movement in favor of its repeal, and when, if the limitation was one resting on precedent alone, it would be swept away without hesitation, in favor of the object of the people's choice.

Gen. Grant is deservedly one of the most popular men in America, and is undoubtedly destined to a reelection. And when the will of the nominating convention is made known we have no doubt that the Tribune and its editor as in 1868, will pursue the entirely consistent, honorable and patriotic course of supporting, as against the nominee of a hostile party, the candidate who has been nominated by its own party against their earnest protest. Indeed we have tho promise of such conduct in advance.

Political Notes.

California paper commnt at length upon the sweeping Republican victory in that State. The San Francisco Alta says that the people have not voted without thinking that the last legislature was probable the most corupt that ever disgraced the state.

The Philadelwhia "Press" says: "Last fall the Germans of Philadelphia, who had been insulted by the Democratic press in its course on the Franco-Prussian war, voted the Republican local ticket almost en masse. They will repeat this course this fall."

Democracy in New Jersey threatens to split on the rock of the "new departure." At the convention on Wednesday the president in his opening address, stated "that the Democratic party had no new theories to advance; that it stands and abides by the principles of the old Democratic party." This sentiment, directly antagonistic to the progressive movement, was received with applause, and was apparently a reflex of the views of a majority of the delegates. The platform, however, is "new departure" to the core.

The Omaha "Tribune" exposes a trick of the Nebraska constitution-makers to nullify the negative vote of the people. The ticket to be used is headed: "New Constitution Ticket—For all the propositions on this tickets which are not concelled with ink or pencil; and against all which are so cancelled." Then follow the lines, "For the new constitution," and designating erch of the propositions to be voted on independently. If a voter erases all the propositions of course his vote is negative, but the politicians arranged the plan so that if the voter erases the head of the ticket and the introductory lines also, his pallot becomes a blank, and does not count as a negative vote.

MASSACHUSETTS preserves to a considerable extent the good old Sunday custom which is sufficiently explained by the words pork and beans; and in various Massachusetts towns there are hung out in front of domiciles, Sunday mornings, when there happens to be a scarcity of the dish, placards beginning "Nota Bene," so written in deference to New England orthography and pronunciation, And Beverly, in Massachusetts—the people of which place, by the way, get up at 12:05 every morning to put their clothes to soak—is know as Bean town. "No virtuous citizen of that place," remarks the Hartford Courant, "thinks of passing Sunday morning without baked pork and beans for breakfast. Formerly they went to the different bakeries Saturday night, each man with his bean-pot. Each pot was numbered with a check as soon as received, and the number given to the owner, and crowds would gather round the bakery door Sunday morning, each man calling his number and receiveng his pot. But now they have a pottery in town, and each householder has had his bean-pot made to order, with his name or initials baked into the sides, and the plan works beautifully. The bakers charge six cents for baking beans, and it is no mean source of revenue."

HOW CONNOLLY WAS APPOINTED.—The new charter of New York made the office of comptroller elective. But it was seen at once, that Connolly would have a hard time of an election; so a clause was smuggled into the tax bill, giving the appointment of that office to the mayor, the appointment to hold for four years, and before anybody knew that such a provision had been enacted, the mayor had appointed Connolly, the same mayor who now calls upon his man to resign, and to take, before the public, the odium that is too much even when shared among the whole ring. The ring papers have generally abandoned Connelly and some of them have given up Tweed. Why these two should be selected rather than the others, it would be difficult to say.

PROF. MAHAN.—Prof. Dennis H. Mahan whose unfortunate death is briefly noted in a short paragraph, was well known through the country as an eminent military engineer, whose works have become standard in military circles the world over. He was the sixth oldest living graduate of West Point, and was appointed to that institution from Virginia, of which he was a native. He graduated in 1824, and remained at the Academy three years as Professor of Mathematics and Assistant Professor of Engineering. In 1826 he was sent to Europe on professional duty by order of the War Department, and remained abroad four years, during which he completed a course of education at the Military School of Engineering and Artillery at Metz, and graduated second in his class, the highest honor that could be attained in that institution by a foreigner. Shortly after his return from Europe Lieut. Mahan was appointed Acting Professor of Engineering, and two years after this appointment was made Professor of Military and Civil Engineering, a position he occupied at the time of his death. For a number of years Prof. Mahan has been the real Superintendent of West Point in all matters relating to the Academy that were not really of a minor character, and his suggestions and advice were received at Washington with the greatest consideration. In the lapse of time, naturally enough, the exercise of this power created for him many powerful enemies, and justly or unjustly, the Board of Visitors were induced to retire him last June. He never recovered from the effects of the blow. His health gradually grew feeble and his mental condition correspondingly weakened. By the advice of friends he left West Point on Saturday to consult a physician at New York, and during the voyage he evaded the watchfulness of a friend and threw himself overboard. Every effort was made to rescue him, but in vain.

THE MISSING WOMAN.—We get in an exchange a few additional particulars in regard to the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. E. C. Mitchell of Detroit, referred to in the PRESS a few days ago. Mrs. M. is a native of Portland, an adopted daughter of the late B. C. Fernald:

She had been instructed by her husband to make the journey by easy stages, and therefore intended to pass the night in Boston. Finding the hotels crowded she resolved to continue her journey, and telegraphed to her father-in-law, Mr. E. P. Mitchell, President of the Commonwealth National Bank, Philadelphia, that she would proceed to the nine P. M. train, and also wrote a note in pencil to her husband in Detroit, saying that she would go forward and telegraph him on her arrival in Philadelphia. This is the latest authentic intelligence of the lady. Her husband and his brother went to Boston and interrogated the conductors of the train she said she would take, but found no clue beyond a faint recollection on the part of the sleeping car conductor that such a lady on the night of the 5th inst. wanted a berth, but could not get it, owing to the crowded state of the train, but was taken into a section which a Mrs. Ames had secured entirely for herself who kindly offered to share with her.

Mrs. Mitchell mentioned in her letter to her husband that an elderly gentleman had been very kind to her on the way from Portland, and on her arrival in Boston offered to conduct her to a third rate hotel; but as she objected to stopping in any but a first class hotel, he advised her to continue her journey. Whether she went further than Boston does not appear.

THERE was considerable excitement on the main street of Wheeling, West Virginia, at noon of last Wednesday, when the sound of four pistol shots, fired in rapid succession, was heard in the People's Bank, followed immediately by the sight of two men rushing out, holding revolvers in their hands, which they pointed at whoever attempted to stay their progress. It was simply another midday robbery, and of the most desperate and violent character. At the noon hour, when only a clerk, George Feeney, was in the bank, two ordinarily-dressed men entered, told the clerk they had come to take possession, and immediately began a shooting match in which Feeney joined. Meantime they found time to snatch packages of money from the desk. The rapid firing soon drew a crowd to the door, and the robbers saw that their game was up. Holding their pistols against the breasts of those who stopped their egress, they got out on to the street, where the cry of "Stop thief" called out a great number of persons. Alexander Laughlin made an attempt to stop them on Main street, but one of them levelled his pistol and shouted "Come on!" and Alexander, like a sensible man, didn't "come on." As they turned up Mulberry alley they met Joseph Paull. The taller of the two rascals placed the muzzle of his pistol against Joe's breast, shouting "Let me pass, sir.', Joe instantly removed any obstruction his presence might have been, and said "Pass on, stranger." In this way they passed out of town, no one hindering, and the bank, after closing for the day, couldn't make its cash balance by $1536. But nobody was hurt.

THE HARVEST IN FRANCE.—The grain prospects throughout the French departments earlier than what is generally supposed. Though the yield is less than that of previous year it is by no means as short as what might have been expected in a country which for nearly a year was engaged in a desperate struggle on its own soil with the armies of a neighboring Power. As a whole the wheat crop will be deficient; but the other crops—oats, rye and barley—will make a good exhibit. Wheat is very good in three departments, good in twenty-three, tolerable in nineteen and moderate in thirty departments, good in forty-four, tolerable in seven and moderate in five; rye is very good in eight departments, good in sixty, tolerable in eleven and moderate in two; and barley is very good in twenty-three departments, good in forty-six, tolerable in eight and moderate in one.

FISHERY ITEMS.—The Gloucester Telegraph of Saturday contains the following:

The fishing schooner William C. Endicott of this port, Capt Martoin, owned by Mr. Wm. C. Wonson, has been ashore this week near the entrance to Boothbay harbor, but has been got off and taken upon the marine railway. The reported disaster to the William Parsons, 2d, may have had its origin in the disaster to this vessel. The fishing schooner Elsincur of this port, before reported ashore near Argyle, N. S. full of water, has been got off and repaired, and at last accounts was about ready to proceed on her way home.

The fishing schooner Glenwood, which arrived home from a bay trip last week, reports the loss of two of her crew, Patrick McGinnis and John Quim, drowned in the Bay St. Lawrence in July. Quim was engaged near the rail in putting a head in a barrel of mackerel when the vessel launched and threw him overboard. The boat was immediately lowered to go to his rescue and three men jumped into her, causing her to fill and she was soon at considerable distance from the vessel. Two of the men started to swim to the schooner, but one of them turned, and with his comrade clung to the boat until picked up; McGinnis being a good swimmer, kept on for the vessel, but being incumbered with his clothes was unable to reach her, or keep afloat on any of the articles thrown to his rescue, and sunk after being in the water a quarter of an hour. He was a native of Nova Scotia, about twenty-three years of age. Quim was a Portuguese, about eighteen years of age, and unmarried.

It is reported that a South Boston speculator recently purchased a large lot of land at the intersection of prominent streets, and proceeded to erect a block of six houses on the wrong corner. The blunder was not discovered until the brick had been piled to the third story, when the owner demanded a double price for his land and would not accept a compromise offered by the builder. The houses are coming down.—Advertiser.

A. H. Stephens dosen't "let up" a bit. He lays the loss of Calafornia to the new departure nonsense, and hopes the frisky young democracy will get enough of it after a while and do as the old man tells them.

The Upper Kennebec.

To the Editor of the Press:

This has not been in season in which farmers in the Kennebec will ever speak with great enthusiasm. First, the season was unusually dry so that the hay crop is not more than two-thirds as large as last year on the best farms, and on the older ones not more than half. The crop of 1870 was a decidedly short one. Second, the grasshoppers have been a burden in the land, destroying entirely many crops.—Third, no crop is good, or as good as usual. This includes potatoes, corn and apples. Potatoes will be short though of excellent quality; but the price is now very low, but the trade has not yet begun, though it is doubtful if they command the price of last year. Farmers are selling off their stock at a fearful rate. To see the heavy cattle trains over the Maine Central the past two months might lead one to believe that there are no cattle left in Somerset and Piscataquis counties. Large quantities of corn and oats are now shipped to Skowhegan, there ground and sold to farmers. Wool, of which every good farmer of Somerset calculates on a fair clip, has commanded unusually high prices, and the demand for and price of sheep and lambs has been quite good. All these discouraging matters make farmers look rather long faced and talk about going West, but I notice that there is an unusual amount of preparation going on for a crop in 1872.

Lumbering on the Kennebec promises the next season to engross as much attention as usual. The lumbermen are generally satisfied with the season, the price allowing careful manufacturers a fair profit.

Railroad matters that have engrossed considerable attention here are now quieter, though the people have lost none of their interest in a subject so important. The Somerset railroad, from West Waterville to Solon, graded in part to Anson almost a year ago, has since remained in statu quo, and to an observer it seems exceedingly doubtful if it succeeds, for the chances, nearly every one, are against it.—First, location is against it; it should have extended from Skowhegan. Second, the company began before it counted the cost and began with the credit of several towns, in the aggregate about one-fourth enough to build the road. After voting the money several towns rescinded their votes and the work went on with the balance and the others went into law. Third, the company became the partisans of the Maine Central as against the Portland & Kennebec. Subsequently the marriage took place between the large companies, and the Somerset, after being used, was dropped. Such are the facts. There is now considerable talk of the very narrow guage as the next move when it has been proved to be all that has been promised.

The Kennebec is very low, but all the mills seem to be running at their utmost. This is true of the factories and mills at Skowhegan. The axe makers, Seward, Williams & Co., Wharff & Nason and H. M. Foster, were never doing so much—never had so many orders.—Their trip-hammers keep up their clatter almost without intermission.

At East Madison, 5 1-2 miles from Skowhegan, J. W. Hobart and other parties have discovered and are opening an extensive slate quarry. Mr. Hobart discovered the slate about a year ago, but has only been operating for a few weeks. The proprietors have a number of Welch miners there now who pronounce the quality first rate and the facilities for quarrying quite rare. It can be shipped from Skowhegan to where it can be drawn over an easy wagon road. QUIS.

The Oxford County Republicans.

PARIS, Sept. 12, 1871.

To the Editor of the Press:

In no county in the State, was the political ground so carefully and thoroughly canvassed by the Democrats, as in Oxford. The main object was to break down Gov. Perham at home, and greatly reduce his majority in the State.—Although there have been no public meetings, yet for a week or ten days before the election the canvass was spirited; and the Republicans have came out of it victorious. Several of the Representative districts were warmly contested but the great fight was in the Oxford, Buckfield and Hebron district. By an arrangement among the Republicans, Oxford was to have the candidate the present year and Gen. John J. Perry without solicitation on his part, was nominated.

For private reasons, two or three persons, who have hitherto acted with the Republican party, announced their determination to bolt. The Democrats were told if they would put up their strongest man—enough bolting Republicans could be found in Oxford to elect him. Highly elated at their prospect of success the Democrats looked over the district and elected S. C. Andrews, Esq., of Buckfield. Every inch of the ground was contested by the friends of both parties, with the following results. In Oxford, in spite of the bolters, Gen. Perry came out of the fight fourteen votes ahead of his ticket with a clean majority of fifty votes in his own town and a majority of 66 in the district. Last year, the vote in Oxford was a tie, between Perham and Roberts. Glory enough for one day. So say the Republicans of the OXFORD DISTRICT.

State Convention of Y. M. C. Association.

H. H. Burgess, Esq., of this city, corresponding secretary of the State Association of Y. M. C. A., has issued a circular giving notice of the sixth annual convention to be holden in Biddeford on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 26th and 27th. A committee will be in attendance at the rooms, to assign places of entertainment, and arrangements have been made with the several railroad and steamboat lines to return delegates free, who have paid full fare one way. All who feel interested in the work of the Y. M. C. A., and especially pastors of churches throughout the State are cordially invited to be present and take part in the deliberations of the convention. As it is desired to have the discussions of the convention practical, it is hoped that at least two brethren of each Association will come prepared to respond to the questions: "What are the obstacles in the way of the entire success of our Association?" and, "What plans have you adopted which have proved the most successful in winning young men to Christ?" Other questions and subjects will be brought before the convention during its session, and it is expected that every one present will feel at liberty to take part. H. Thane Miller, of Cincinnati, Ohio, desires and hopes to be present, and the National Executive Committee will be represented by one of its active members. The meeting for organization will be held in the church at 11 o'clock A. M. to be preceded by prayer meeting at 10 1-2 o'clock. Reports are expected from all Associations in the State.

It is desirable that all who propose to attend will send their names to T. H. Hubbard, Secretary of Biddeford Association, at as early a day as possible. It is expected that the convention will be a help to the Associations throughout the State. Members will come together, to give their experience in their Associations, with their peculiar difficulties, and how they are overcome; their work in reclaiming young men, and how accomplished; their mission work, its results and bearings upon the general welfare of the Association, together with full details of what has been accomplished during the year. Thus conferring together, they will be enabled to plan for the permanency and progress of the work in the future.

The Blaine Scandal.

Mr. H. S. Osgood publishes in the Kennebec Journal the following statement respecting the note alleged to have been negotiated at the First National Bank of Augusta in 1868 by Mr. Blaine for political purposes:

Owing to the very large number of meetings that were held in this city in 1868, the campaign was an expensive one. The large mass convention that was held here Sept. 3d of that year entailed very heavy cost; particularly in connection with extra railroad trains, parade of Tanner clubs, torch light processions, transparencies, banners, &c. Other meetings also involved considerable expense of the same character.

It was several weeks after the election was over before the bills were all collected, and as the money had of course to be paid, a note was made, signed by myself and endorsed by the following gentlemen, viz: James G. Blaine, Lot M. Morrill, John L. Stevens, James A. Bickwell, and A. B. Farwell. The note was for $1360.80, and I carried it myself to the First National bank and procured its discount there on the 12th of November, 1868, and I attended to the subsequent renewals of the same.

There was not a dollar of the money used to buy votes, or for any other purpose than the usual and legitimate expenses of a political campaign, attended with mass meetings and demonstrations. Having disbursed every dollar of the money myself, as treasurer of the Republican city committee, I know whereof I affirm.

That there were any promises in regard to the payment of the note made by any particular endorser of it, is entirely erroneous.

I make this statement after all the endorsers have been consulted (except Mr. Stevens who is not accessible,) and with their full concurrence and approval.

Personal.

The Portsmouth Times says Mr. Jefferson Rowe, of that city, the brave brakeman who was injured at the Revere slaughter, is doing well. He has been removed to comfortable quarters, where his wife can care for him, and is as comfortable as a man can be who has both legs broken, and his right arm amputated.

The Rev. Peter Cartwright, who has been a Methodist minister for sixty-six years, and a presiding elder for more than fifty years, celebrated his eighty seventh birthday on the 1st instant, at Pleasant Plains, Sangamon county, Ill. Children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren to the number of 120 were present, to whom the venerable octogenarian made an interesting speech.

Professor Dennis H. Mahan, of the West Point Military Academy, whose brilliant qualities, fine accomplishments and eccentricities will long be remembered, committed suicide Saturday morning, by jumping from the steamboat Mary Powell, while on her passage to New York.

KENNEBEC COUNTY.

Trinity Commandary of Knights Templar of Augusta, will visit Melrose Mass., Sept. 27, on the invitation of the Hugh De Payen Commandery, of that town, who visited Augusta two years ago last June.

The Kennebec Journal says on searching young Safford, who was arrested the other day for stealing watches from the express, a receipt for the property was found from the wholesale dealer in Boston. It appears from the note appended to the receipt that the wholesale dealer and the retailer are engaged in a sort of Peter Funk business, and the former congratulates the latter on their mutual success in cheating the public. In his surprise that the public can be so easily gulled, the dealer in watches writes: "You must be fencing the scoots pretty fast to want so many watches." It is a little strange that there are so many "scoots" in every community that love to be "fenced."

Saturday evening about 10 o'clock, Mr. Thos. His skull was fractured by the blows of the ruffians and he has been in an unconscious state since the assault. His recovery is considered very doubtful. As Mr. Josselyn had been largely engaged in buying and selling wool, it is supposed he had quite a large amount of money about him.

EUROPEAN AND NORTH AMERICAN RAILWAY CO.

THE E. & N. A. RAILWAY is completed from Bangor, Maine, to St. John, New Brunswick, a distance of 262 miles,—with the exception of 58 miles between Winn, Me., and the boundary line of the State at Vanceboro'. On this portion the track is now being laid, both from Winn eastward and from Vanceboro' westward and the work will be completed and trains running from Bangor to St. John in September next.

This road will then be

THE ONLY RAILWAY

CONNECTING THE UNITED STATES AND THE BRITISH PROVINCES (New Brunswick and Nova Scotia). The population of the maritime Provinces is about ONE MILLION, and all the land travel, freight, mails, &c., between them and the United States, will pass over this Trunk line, which is WITHOUT COMPETITION. Although not yet completed, the business of the road is already far greater than its most sanguine friends predicted, and is continually increasing.

The net earnings from Local Business alone, on the 56 miles completed in Maine, already exceed the interest on two and one quarter millions of dollars, and will be largely increasing after Sept next by the business to and from the Provinces.

To complete this road, and to equip it as fully as its present large business and the immediate increase consequent upon its completion, requires—the Company has issued its Bonds to the amount of Two Millions of Dollars, secured by a

FIRST & ONLY MORTGAGE

ON ITS ENTIRE ROAD AND PROPERTY FROM WINN to VANCEBORO' (besides a Second Mortgage on the entire road and equipments from Bangor to Winn, 56 miles. This portion cost some $2,300,000, and the only lien thereon is a mortgage to the city of Bangor for $1,000,000) —and, in addition thereto by a FIRST AND ONLY MORTGAGE on 800,000 Acres of Land!

Said lands being the same granted by the State of Maine to aid the construction of this road. They are situated along the Penobscot and St. John rivers, and are heavily timbered and valuable. Large tracts, especially in the fertile Aroostook Valley (the finest agricultural district in the State) are valuable for farming lands as well as for their timber. This immense grant of lands equals about of Railroad with which they are mortgaged. They cover 1250 square miles (nearly as large as the State of Rhode Island, which is 1306 square miles,) and are of great value.

14,000 Acres to each Mile

Thus, besides the mortgage of the Railway, its equipments, &c., which alone is ample security for the Bonds, there are timber and farm lands to the amount of also pledged to ensure the payment thereof.

The Bonds are for $1000 each, due March 1, 1899, bear interest at

Free from U. S. Taxation.

Coupons payable March 1 and September 1, in New York. Bonds registered if desired. Coupons made payable (if each in London, Eng and, if preferred.

SINKING FUND—All proceeds of sales of land, as well as of timber and other products therefrom, are, by the Trustees, to be invested in these Bonds if they can be bought at par or less; otherwise in United States, State or Municipal Securities. And on July 1, 1879, and annually thereafter until these Bonds become due or are all paid, the E. & N. A. Railway Co. is bound to pay to the Trustees a sum of money equal to one per cent. of the amount of Bonds outstanding. Such amounts, and all interest received on securities, belonging to the Sinking Fund are to be invested as above stated, and these accumulations are solely for the purpose of additionally providing for the redemption of these Bonds. The Sinking Fund constitutes a third great element of security and strength, and adds to the safety of these Bonds.

The Trustees are Hon. HANNIBAL HAMLIN, of Bangor, Me., and J. EDGAR THOMSON, Esq., of Philadelphia, Pa.

The Trustees are authorized to receive the Bonds at Par and Accrued Interest in payment for any of the lands at their appraised value.

These very desirable securities for sale at

U. S. Bonds and all marketable securities received at highest market price in exchange for these Bonds, and can be sent by Express and these returned by Express, free of expense to the purchaser.

On completion (in 1872) of 60 miles of Railroad now building, between St. John, N. B, and Halifax, N. JUDGE FOX, PRESIDING.

MONDAY—John C. Cobb, assignee of John B. Nash, vs Algernon O. Smith. This was a process issued against respondent to require him to produce the books and papers belonging to the estate of John B. Nash of Yarmouth, bankrupt, of which it is alleged he is possessed. It appears that in November 1870, Nash failed and his property (as a trader) was attached by his creditors. Afterwards he was put into bankruptcy, and made a partial statement of his affairs, alleging that he was unable to make a full statement, because his books and papers were in the hands of Smith, who had been his book-keeper, and retained possession of them and refused to give them up. Smith was accordingly brought into court this morning. The testimony developed the facts that with Nash's consent the books were placed in the custody of Smith. Afterwards Nash desired to obtain them, but Smith refused to deliver them up, until a demand which he had against Nash was settled. It appears that the books were in Smith's possession until January, 1871, when, as he alleges, in the absence of himself and wife, some person entered his house and carried them away. This, and other evidence, which created the impression in the mind of the demandant's counsel that Smith had a real knowledge of the whereabouts of the books, prompted a motion that the Court pass an order, fixing a date for the delivery of the books in court or suffer the penalty. The presiding Judge took the papers and holds the case for consideration.

Brief Jottings.

The Red Stockings of Boston beat the Mutuals of New York on Saturday by a score of 9 to 7. This was the third of a series of their games for the championship, two of which were won by the Mutuals. The Red Stockings will play with the Resolutes at Forest City Park to-morrow.

Miss Elizabeth E. Scamman, one of the assistant teachers at the High School has vacated her position to enter upon similar duties in Kentucky. The pupils of the second class yesterday presented her with an elegant ring as a token of their esteem and affection.

We hear it said that the Pine street Methodist Society in this city are contemplating a new church edifice, having outgrown the dimensions of the present one.

The Allan Mail Steamship Prussian from Liverpool arrived at Quebec at 11 p. m., Sunday, with 92 cabin and 511 steerage passengers.

Mr. Wm M. Lewis, landlord of the Preble House, is now lying very ill with fever.

Remember the Lingards to-night at Music Hall, and get your seats at Hawes & Cragin's in good season.

The Coming Fair.

Everything goes on swimmingly with regard to the coming Fair. There has been a large number of entries of horses, and the prospect is that the exhibition of neat stock, swine and sheep, &c., will equal that of any of our State exhibitions.

Our own city gardens will produce some fine fruits and flowers the present year—and it is to be hoped that every one who can contribute anything in this line will lend a helping hand on this occasion. Entries of mechanical articles, farm produce and horticultural specimens are to be made at the City Hall building.

We hope that our merchants, traders and manufacturers will contribute liberally to the exhibition in the hall, as we feel certain that our horticulturists and agriculturalist will, and the stock-raisers at the grounds at the Park. Here efore at exhibitions of this kind the supply has been generous but not general; an error seems to have been in a desire to exhibit something exquisitely nice rather than practical and within the view of purchasers. We believe the object of gatherings of this kind is something akin to the English "market-day," where mechanical, agricultural, dairy and other products are brought forward for barter and sale, with prices attached; and not a fancy exhibition room where the spectator admires but is not tempted to buy because the extra labor bes owed has put an exaggerated price upon the article beyond necessity or the limits of his purse. Portland can contribute boots, shoes, harnesses, carriages, sewing machines, edge tools, sugar, agricultural implements, glassware, machinery, castings, and ten thousand other things produced or sold here that will be a credit to her people as well as show our resources.

The promise for the success of Horse Fair is most flattering. More than a hundred entries for the various premiums were made last evening, and the best blooded animals in Maine are in the list. The Trustees have added to the advertised prizes, a purse of $300 for horse that have never beaten 2.40; and the books for this premium will be open until 8 o'clock on Thursday evening. A cattsman's purse for $50—mile dash—slowest horse to win has also been decided on; and no doubt it will produce all the fun that a "slow-race" usually engenders.

The Committee are all zealous at work in their several departments, resolved that if possible the coming Fair shall be a thoroughly good thing in all its parts.

The Superintendent of the Hall, Mr. S. B. Beckett, has opened an office in City Hall, adjoining the Aldermen's room, where he will be constantly in attendance to assist contributors to the fair in placing their goods and giving information.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.—This now almost indispensable institution is about to enter upon an enlarged sphere of usefulness. The Library rooms have been closed for a few weeks past, during which time all the books have been examined, the alcoves rearranged, a large number of new and standard works, in all departments of literature, added, and the work of building several new alcoves for the reception of the augmented library is now rapidly going on. Some new features are to be introduced at the opening, which are calculated to promote the interest of the public who frequent the library; and it is hoped that a still greater appreciation of these advantages of so excellent a collection of books and periodical literature of the various departments, will be apparent on the part of our citizens and the constant readers at the library. The work will be pushed on as fast as it is possible to do, and the library may be expected to be opened to the public in a few days. We have heard the suggestion frequently made in private circles that it would be very agreeable if there be inaugurated during the ensuing autumn and winter a series of literary entertainments, in which all the members might participate. We doubt not that should such an interesting feature be established that it would be productive of a high degree of pleasure and profit in a literary point of view.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.—The monthly meeting of the School Committee was held last evening. Leave of absence was granted to Miss Martha A. Owen of Primary School No. 3 on account of illness; same for six months to Miss Lizzie H. Phillips of the Brackett street Grammar school, and to Miss Carrie E. Foster of the Park street Grammar school; the latter proposing to attend the Oswego Training School. The resignation of Miss Francis M. Elwell, assistant teacher in Primary No. 7; Miss Hattie E Morrill of the North School and Miss Elizabeth E. Scamman of the High School were severally received and accepted. Misses Scamman and Morrill leave Portland to enter upon similar duties elsewhere at increased salaries. The vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Miss Scamman was filled by the promotion of Miss Flora B Corbidge, assistant teacher in the Fourth Grammar for boys.

The application of Miss Emily I Hunt for a situation as teacher was referred to the Committee on examinations.

The following resolution by Mr. Blanchard was passed:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this committee, other things being equal, that teachers leaving the service of the committee for the purpose of attending school with the view of perfecting themselves as teachers, ought to have and will necessarily have as strong or stronger claim upon the Committee for employment as such.

The quarterly pay-roll of teachers and bills to the amount of $1703 43 were presented and passed.

The committee to whom was referred the matter of a charge of reading books reported that a change is expedient and, recommending the adoption of the "Independent Series."

The following orders were adopted:

Ordered, That the first tour of the Independent Series of Reading books be introduced for use in the Grammar and Primary schools of this city in place of corresponding books of the Progressive Series; said introduction to be gradual into each class as they advance to a grade requiring them to change the grade of readers now in use, and that the pupils advancing to such grade shall be required to provide themselves with the appropriate volume of said series.

Ordered, That the executive committee be instructed to procure a sufficient quantity of the first four books of the Independent Series of Readers for introduction into the schools, to make the best possible terms with the publishers and to distribute the books to the scholars at the price paid.

The executive committee were instructed to enforce the city ordinance requiring all scholars of the public schools to be vaccinated.

The 10th rule was suspended in order to refer the subject of the substitution of Hart's Rhetoric for Quackenboss's Rhetoric, to the High School committee with power.

On motion, Messrs. Merrill, Smith and Gordon were appointed a committee to take charge of the matter of Drawing in the public schools, with powers to secure the assistance necessary for its proper introduction.

Mr. W. H. Clifford and Dr. H. N. Small tendered their resignation as members of the Board and they were accepted.

THEATRE.—Music Hall was well filled last evening with an appreciative audience, the main attraction being Pink and White Tyranny, a dramatization from Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe's recent brilliant novel of that name—one of her best efforts. The play was arranged by Kate Reignolds, and endorsed by Mrs. Stowe. Its moral is excellent, showing the wickedness and folly of fashionable life, and the severity and sorrow of retribution.

The play is finely written and full of the most interesting and best points of the book. The character of Lillie Ellis, afterwards the wife of John Seymour, was finely taken by Miss Reignolds—the coquetry at Saratoga, the frivolity at Springdale, (the Seymour's country home) the sin at New York, and her expiation and death being forcibly portrayed. In fact, the play while not a great one, is highly moral and one of the best of its class, and just suited to the capital talents of Miss Reignolds Mr. E. W. Beattie, that sterling actor, as noble John Seymour, Mr. Thomas H. Burns as Dick Follingsbee, the man of the world, Miss Emma Reignolds as Rose Ferguson, Miss Emma Hall as Grace Seymour, and Mrs. E M. Leslie as Mrs. Follingsbee, the fashionable woman, were excellent.

The evening performances concluded with a song by Mr. Bassett, and the comic sketch Our Country Cousin, with Miss Emma Reignolds as Margery, Mr. George W. Wilson as Cousin Joe, Mr. F. S. Slater as Sir William Evergreen, and Mr. C. M. Bassett as Captain Blenheim. Both were excellently done and were well received.

AN ACTIVE OCTOGENARIAN.—We had the pleasure of an interview, a day or two since, with an aged but very smart citizen, who has passed a somewhat eventful life. We allude to Mr. Francis Radoux. This gentleman is a native of France, and has just attained the eighty-first anniversary of his birthday. He was conscripted into the French army in 1815, and was marching with his regiment for the last great campaign of Napoleon, when the decisive battle of Waterloo ended the active career of the great captain, who was soon afterward banished to St. Helena. During the reign of Louis XVIII, Mr. Radoux left France for the free flag of the United States and he soon became a citizen by adoption. He lived as a farmer in Raymond, in this county, for many years, and he here married Mrs. Richard Manning, the widow of the uncle of the distinguished Nathaniel Hawthorne who, it is well known, formerly lived in Raymond. Mr Radoux has been quite proficient in days gone by in the polite accomplishments of dancing and music; and although the muscles of his arm will not let him play the violin as formerly, he still has the agility to dance as well as those much younger. On the day he was 81 he wrote to his daughter a letter in a very clear round hand, that might be envied by many a counting-house clerk, and without spectacles, too. He attributes his long life, good health, and general happiness, though he has seen some reverses in fortune, to the great natural blessing he possesses in his remarkably exhuberant animal spirits.

ARREST OF A BURGLAR.—Yesterday afternoon the police ascertained that two pairs of shoes, probably stolen, had been sold by a negro at a store at the junction of Portland and Oxford streets, and a little investigation showed them to have been stolen from the store of Mr. John Cartin on Middle street. Suspicion was directed to a stalwart negro, named Chas. Robinson, alias George Robinson, alias Charles Davis, who had been employed in some of the stables in town. Deputy Marshal Sterling and officer Wyman put themselves on his track, and after satisfying themselves that he was the thief, and arresting him, hunted up his lodging place in the rear of Congress street above Washington, where they found several pairs of boots and shoes which Mr. Cartin identified as having been stolen from his store; also a valuable meerschaum pipe and some brushes which Mr. Thomas G. Loring stated to be among the articles stolen when his store was broken into some time ago. The man on Portland street identified the negro as the person who sold him the shoes first mentioned; and it is naturally suspected that he has been concerned in other robberies in town. Robinson (or Smith) has worked at Sawyer's stable on Federal street, at Sager's on Oak street, and at other similar places. The officers say they have got a sure thing on him.

SERENADE.—The Portland Band tendered a very handsome serenade last evening at the Preble House to Mr. Albert E Weob, in compliment to his friendliness to the band for several years past. Mr. W. having recently returned from a bridal tour out West, was taken completely by surprise, but he invited the band and his friends into Reed's, under Lancaster Hall, where a fine spread was laid in an impromptu manner.

HARPER'S BAZAAR.—The number for the week, richly illustrated, has been received at the periodical depot of Messrs. Fessenden Bros., Lancaster Hall; also by D. Wentworth, dealers in books, stationery, &c., 337 Congress, corner of Oak street. This journal of Fashion takes the lead of all others, and is a welcome visitor to the parlor circle.

MISCELLANEOUS NOTICES.

Cleaned Out.

I have bought the entire stock, fixtures, insurance policy, firewood, and everything else belonging to the store of W. F. Sawyer, No. 307 Congress street, for 50 cents on the dollar of its original cost, and piles of goods thrown in for nothing. This stock is composed largely of Fall and Winter Hosiery and Gloves. Ladies', Gents', and Children's Underwear and Handkerchiefs. Also a large assortment of the thousand and one notions too numerous to mention, but wanted in every family. These I have moved to my store, 129 Middle street, added to my own stock, gives me probably by far the largest and best assortment of Hosiery, Gloves, and Small Wares to be found in any retail store in the State. As I own these goods for one half their original cost, I am enabled, without loss, to sell them for about one half what the same goods can usually be bought for.

I have marked in plain figures my retail price on every article. Come and look them over.

Coming to the residence of Drummer Maxwell, of the Navy Yard, who was in bed, they were received with a discharge of his gun which wounded one of the sailors in the neck. He was taken on board his vessel by his comrades and the unknown craft sailed this morning. It is thought that the man died.

Corner-Stone of the Soldiers' Monument.

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—The exercises of laying the corner-stone of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Monument were opened with overture of Stradella by 100 musicians under the lead of Arnoukle. Prayer was then offered, followed by a hymn written for the occasion by Dexter Smith and sung by 100 voices selected from the G. A. R.

Brief and appropriate addresses were made by Mayor Gaston and Gen. Robert Cowdin, after which the stone was laid with Masonic ceremonies, Grand Master Charles Levi Woodbury officiating.

The procession, composed of State militia, Posts of G. A. R., Fire Department, etc. was large and imposing. The Ancient and Honorable Artillery escorted the City Officials and the Cadets, the Governor and State Officials. Immense crowds thronged the route of the procession, and the city generally wore a gala appearance.

Business was generally suspended, the public schools dismissed, and flags were displayed from public and private buildings, with other appropriate manifestations.

We have seen Senator Sumner and Senator Wilson personally, and are authorized by them to say, 'That they deeply regret and deplore the extraordinary canvass which Gen. Butler has precipitated upon the Commonwealth, and especially attacks which he has volunteered against the existing State government and the Republican party of Massachusetts, and that in their opinion his nomination as Governor would be hostile to the best interests of the Commonwealth and of the Republican party."

ILLINOIS

Consolidation and Watering.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—The Tribune this morning argues that the proposed watering of the stock of the Lake Shore railroad in violation of the constitution of Illinois, which in Article 11 provides that no railroad shall issue stock or bonds except for money, labor or property actually received and applied to the purpose for which the corporation is created, and all stock dividends and other fictitious increases of capital stock or indebtedness shall be void. The Lake Shore road being the result of the consolidation of several railway companies, including the Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana, which is authorized by the laws of Illinois, and there having been no special law authorizing the Lake Shore company to issue any stock in excess of its capital paid for the construction of the road, it follows that this watering process is in violation of the State Constitution.

NEW YORK.

A LOW LOT OF THIEVES.

Connolly's Last Move.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Saturday evening Comptroller Connolly removed Deputy Comptroller Storrs, for public reasons "not at all reflecting upon his official rectitude," and appointed Andrew H. Green, formerly Comptroller of the Central Park, from which position he was removed when the Ring assumed absolute power a year or two ago. In his letter to Mr. Green, Connolly said:—"The condition of public sentiment seems to demand that the important affairs of my department should be conducted by one possessing the unlimited confidence of the public," adding in conclusion, "I hereby designate and authorize you to possess the power, and perform all and every duty belonging to the office of Comptroller of the city of New York from the time of this appointment to the first day of February, 1872."

Mayor Hall's Construction—His Appointment of Gen. McClellan.

Mayor Hall construes this phraseology as a practical resignation by Connolly, to whom the following letter was sent this morning:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Sept 18. 1871.

Sir—I am advised that your action in remitting abs dutely, during a specified term of several months, to the Deputy Comptroller every power and duty of the Comptroller, is such a relinquishment of your office, as antagonistic to the legal construction of the charter, that your proceedure is equivalent in law to a resignation of your office as Comptroller of the city of New York; and I hereby accept such resignation. I am also advised that when the power of appointment to office is given, without restriction upon or without express silence touching enactment regarding the power of removal, the latter exists as incident to the power of appointment, and that of impeachment is a merely co-ordinate but not conflicting power to remove in effect an impeached officer by procuring a vacancy. Therefore, to save all questions, I also hereby remove you from the head of the finance department.

Very truly yours,
A. OAKEY HALL,
Mayor of the city of New York.

To Richard B Connolly, late Comptroller of the city of New York.

The World this morning says that Connolly's appointment of Green as a Comptroller is a flagrant violation of the intention of the law, and says that the appointment of Green by Connolly to act as Comptroller for five months contravenes the spirit and practically subverts one of the leading provisions of the charter, and if the intention of the Legislature is a true and adequate rule of interpretation, the Court ought to adjudge the appointment of Green invalid and void.

The Tribune says that the step taken on Saturday evening by the committee of citizens and members of the Democratic Central Committee, which resulted in Connolly's appointment of Green, has driven the common enemy to desperation. The claim of the Mayor that Connolly, in delegating his authority, has relinquished it has not a shadow of foundation.

The Times says that in a few days, if the papers are not taken away from Mr. Green, the public will be forced to believe that Hall, Sweeney, Tweed and Connolly have alike betrayed their trusts and plundered the community, and that there can be no security while they remain in office. No quarter for any of the four must be the watchword now. A band of thieves cannot be permitted to go scot free because they betray a confederate.

Andrew H. Green, the new Deputy Comptroller, was born at Green Hill, near Worcester, Mass., but has lived in this city from boyhood. The new situation is regarded as a beginning of active operations by the State Central Democratic Committee against the Ring.

Gen. McClellan has been appointed to fill the vacancy. In his letter notifying the General of his appointment, Mayor Hall says:

"The action of Richard B. Connolly in retiring from the discharge of his official duties for five months has created a vacancy in the office of the Comptroller of the city of New York. As I am advised and believe, public interests demands that it should be filled immediately by some gentleman of acknowledged ability, not directly connected with local politics, and whose name commands the respect and confidence of the people of the city, State and country, as well as of the financial centres of Europe. The credit of the city has been attacked. It must be defended and maintained. The administration of its financial affairs must be placed beyond even a shadow of suspicion of intrigue. This is due alike to its creditors and to our citizens, all of whom have an interest in its good name and success, and look forward to the early completion of its great works of improvement now in progress, with the most important of which you have been for a year past prominently connected."

Comptroller Connolly and his Deputy, Green, have been at the Comptroller's office all the morning. Mayor Hall has not been at his office to-day. His Secretary has positively refused to accept Green's oath of office.

Gen. McClellan's acceptance of the position of Comptroller still remains in doubt. The general impression is that he has accepted, and that legal measures will be promptly adopted to install him and oust Connolly and Green.

Slippery Dick One Ahead.

Comptroller Connolly and Deputy Andrew H. Green have been engaged to-day in discharging the duties of the office and holding conferences with their lawyers and prominent members of the return party. The general impression is that they occupy an impregnable position and that all efforts to dislodge them must be illegal and will recoil on the originators.

The committee of seventy has been in session from an early hour, and have devised measures for the support and protection of Green. Ex Mayor Havemeyer has made arrangement with several banks to have all checks drawn by Green duly honored. Charles O'Connor is now engaged in writing an opinion in favor of Connolly and declaring that any attempt to oust Green will be a violation of law.

Gen. McClellan arrival at the Comptroller's office is momentarily expected, and developments are looked for with intense interest. The following letter was published at noon:

COMPTROLLER'S OFFICE,
Sept 18 1871, 11 30 A. M.

Hon. A. Oakey Hall, Mayor:

My Dear Sir—I have read in the morning papers only your letter of this date, and beg leave thus promptly to inform you that, as advised, I have not, either in fact or equivalent, resigned the office of Comptroller of the city of New York. I deny the authority of law in the Mayor to exercise the power attempted by your Honor, and in partial support of the de nian quote the words of your former communication:—"I, the Mayor, cannot suspend any head of a department, not even pending investigation. I can only prefer charges to the Judges of Common Pleas, who alone can remove after considerable time for trial." My previously announced determination not at present to retire from my official position is still unchanged. By the appointment of Andrew H. Green as Deputy Comptroller I have endeavored to guard the public interests committed to my care. In such an effort, while calling critical attention to the events of the past forty eight hours, including your official acts and my own, I ask the support of that supreme power, the public sentiment of the citizens of New York and of the State.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
RICHARD B. CONNOLLY, Comptroller.

It is asserted on authority that Gen. McClellan has absolutely refused to accept the office of Comptroller. Great excitement is manifested among politicians, who throng the halls, stairs and lobby of the new Court House.

Deputy Green's Administration.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—P. M.—Green, the new Deputy Comptroller appointed by Connolly, has just delivered to Booth's committee of the citizens and Aldermen all the documents in the Comptroller's office which are required in the investigation of municipal accounts. The excitement increases. Mayor Hall had not reached his office at half past 1 o'clock.

It is reported that the committee of seventy have taken vigilant measures to protect Connolly in retaining his office, because it was rumored that Mayor Hall was about to call upon the police to remove him by force. Prominent members of St. Patrick's Mutual Alliance Association and other organizations have called upon Connolly during the day. Ex Judge Barrett, Rufus Andrews and Samuel J. Andrews have also had interviews with Connolly.

Mr Democratic State Committee gets an Answer from his Lawyer—Connolly Secured Entrenched.

Charles O'Connor, having been requested by Samuel J. Tilden, chairman of the Democratic State Committee to give his opinion upon two points, viz: 1st, Has the appointment of Green as Deputy Comptroller by Connolly was the renunciation or resignation of his office as Comptroller and produced a vacancy, and if so such effect was produced, whether the Mayor, as an incident of his appointing power, may remove the Comptroller, thus causing a vacancy which he might supply, gave his written opinion this afternoon. Mr. O'Connor quotes from the city charter to show that the appointment of Green as deputy with all the powers of Comptroller by Connolly is in strict accordance with law, and that the statute confers no right of removal upon the Mayor either expressly or by implication. Mr. O'Connor's opinion closes as follows:—"If the vacancy could be brought about in any way the Mayor could undoubtedly make an appointment to supply it. The appointment of a deputy in precise conformity with the letter of the statute and the spirit of its obvious intent cannot be the renunciation or resignation of his office by the Comptroller. It is simply a performance of his duty enjoined by law whenever the necessity or expediency may require it; the necessity or expediency of the step is submitted to the discretion of the Comptroller exclusively. I cannot suppose that any jurist can be found who will think otherwise. The President of the United States is deemed to possess the general power of removing executive officers appointed by him, but I am very clear that under the statutes regulating the subject the Mayor has no power to remove the Comptroller. The Constitution of the United States does not provide for the removal of officers except by impeachment. The power to accuse or impeach is given, not to the President, but to the House of Representatives, and only the power to try the accusation or impeachment and remove the accused is given to the Senate. Under the acts constituting the New York city charter, the only mode expressly provided for the removal of the Comptroller is impeachment, and the power to accuse or impeach is given to the Mayor and to no other body or functionary. It would be contrary to all just and reasonable rules of interpretation to hold that an absolute power of removal by the Mayor was given by implication to an officer whose authority in the premises is expressly defined, and by such a definition limited to pre-entation of impeachment. The difference in this general relation to officers of the Government between the power of the President and that of the Mayor is so obvious that further observation does not seem necessary. The closing sentence of the latest enactment having any connection with the subject (Section 3 amendatory act passed April 18, 1871) is impressive evidence that the Mayor does not possess the suggested power of removal when the Comptroller, who has not authorized his deputy to possess every power and perform every duty belonging to the office of Comptroller, happens to become actually disabled by and cause from performing such duties himself. The Mayor is simply authorized to file of the record of designation conferring those powers and imposing those duties on a deputy then already in office by the Comptroller's appointment."

Connolly Backed.

Judge Ledwith and a delegation of the committee of citizens waited upon acting Comptroller Green this afternoon and assured him of their support.

Col. Jolline, chief clerk in the Mayor's office, this afternoon issued the following notice to all the City Department:

"Sir—I am directed by the Mayor to inform you that he does not recognize either Richard B. Connolly as Comptroller or Andrew H. Green as Deputy or acting Comptroller."

The sub committee of the committee of Aldermen and Supervisors and citizen's committee on city accounts were in session to-day and Mr. Booth states that a public report will be made on Thursday.

Late information was reported that Mayor Hall had made arrangements to take the Comptroller's office by storm and seize all the books and papers which it is said implicate Connolly's three associates. The Comptroller, believing the rumor had some truth in it, took such precautions as will baffle any attempt of the kind if made. The usual watch was trebled and the doors barricaded. The adherents of Mayor Hall declare Connolly's fears all feigned, that the precautions are taken solely with a view to create prejudice against the Mayor and that no resort to violence is contemplated.

Reported Acceptance by Gen. McClellan.

The acceptance by Gen. McClellan of his appointment as Comptroller is not yet announced formally, but it is believed to be true. It is asserted this evening that in case he was refused possession of the office by Connolly and Green he will go with his counsel to the Supreme Court Chambers and ask that a mandamus may be issued compelling the Comptroller to vacate the office.

Gen. McClellan Declines.

Gen. McClellan declines to accept the office of Comptroller because he would thereby, under existing circumstances, become a contestant for the position. Had Connolly resigned he would, under certain stipulations, have accepted.

HOWE'S
Hand Potato Digger!

The attention of Farmers is solicited to this New Implement for Digging Potatoes, by means of which this important crop can be secured much quicker and easier than by any other method. All farmers know that potago digging with the hand-hoe is hard, back-aching work; the slowest and most disagreeable of all farm labor. When potatoes are plowed out, they are scattered and many are lost; the work of picking up is tedious and slow; none of the horse potato diggers work well if the ground is stony and weedy.

Howe's Hand Potato Digger

does its work equally well under all conditions of the field. There is no stooping or bending the back. The operator stands perfectly erect, and by one motion of the hand and foot the tubers are instantly removed from the hill and the product of the two rows are deposited in one, free from dirt; thus rendering the work of picking up mere nothing compared to picking after the horse diggers. One hand will pick up four times as many in a day after the digger as he can after any potato digging plow. One boy, 15 years old, can dig and pick up more than two as many potatoes in a day as a man can in the same time with a common hoe. I have dug, myself, 45 bushels in less than three hours with this digger.
It is, beyond all question, the best implement for digging potatoes ever offered to the farmers of this country. No farmer would ever dig potatoes with a common hoe, after using one of these.
We will send this implement, with directions for using it, to any part of the State or country on receipt of price, and warrant it to give satisfaction.
Price, $4.00. Sample Diggers sent to any one who would like to act as Agent, for $3.00. ☞ Agents wanted in every town.

THE Novelty Clothes Wringer.

Nothing except the Sewing Machine, has ever been invented which so much relieves the labor of the household as the Wringer. But its usefulness does not end here. The saving of clothing is of much greater importance. It is often remarked that articles of fine texture, last twice as long when wrung in a Wringer as when wrung by hand. The NOVELTY has Cog-wheels on both ends. The rolls are allowed to separate freely at either end. These, besides other advantages which it contains, seem to be indispensable to a practical wringer.—New York Independent.
The Novelty Wringer.—Has become an indispensable institution in thousands of families. And we believe its great and increasing popularity is fully merited—for the Novelty evidently possesses all the requisites of a first-class, practical machine. Indeed after using one for many months in our family, we are prepared to endorse the Novelty as unsurpassed (the laundress says unequaled,) by any of the several wringers previously tried.—Moore's Rural New-Yorker

DR. J. B. HUGHES,
CAN BE FOUND AT HIS PRIVATE MEDICAL ROOMS
No. 172 Cumberland Street,
WHERE he can be consulted privately, and with the utmost confidence by the afflicted, at hours daily, and from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M.
Dr. M. addresses those who are suffering under the afflictions of private diseases, whether arising from impure connection or the terrible vice of self-abuse. Devoting his entire time to that particular branch of the medical profession, he feels warranted in GUARANTEEING A CURE IN ALL CASES, whether of long standing or recently contracted, entirely removing the dregs of disease from the system, and making a perfect and PERMANENT CURE.
He would call the attention of the afflicted to the fact of his long-standing and well-earned reputation furnishing sufficient assurance of his skill and success.
Caution to the Public.
Every intelligent and thinking person must know that remedies handed out for general use should have their efficacy established by well tested experience in the hands of a regularly educated physician, whose preparatory studies fit him for all the duties he must fulfil; yet the country is flooded with pretentious and cure-alls, purporting to be the best in the world, which are not only useless, but always injurious. The unfortunate sick, be warned in selecting his physician, as it is a lamentable yet incontrovertible fact, that many syphilitic patients are made miserable with ruined constitutions by maltreatment from inexperienced physicians in general practice; for it is a point generally conceded by the best syphilographers, that the study and management of these come diseases should engross the whole time of those who would be competent and successful in their treatment and cure. The inexperienced general practitioner, having neither opportunity nor time to make himself acquainted with their pathology, commonly pursues one system of treatment, in most cases making an indiscriminate use of that antiquated and dangerous weapon, the Mercury.
Shun Quacks.
Al who have committed an excess of any kind let her it be the solitary vice of youth, or the thinking rebuke of misplaced confidence in maturer years,
SEEK FOR AN ANTIDOTE IN SEASON.
The Pains and Aches, and Lassitude and Nervous Prostration that may follow Impure Connection are the Barometer to the whole system.
Do not wait for the consummation that is sure to follow; do not wait for Disfigurement of Bodily Ulcers, for Disabled Limbs, for Loss of Beauty and Complexion.
How Many Unfortunate Can Testify to This by Dishearty Experience!
Young men troubled with emissions in sleep—a complaint generally the result of a bad habit in youth—treated scientifically and a perfect cure warranted or no charge made.
Hardly a day passes but we are consulted by one or more young men with the above disease, some of whom are as weak and emaciated as though they had the consumption, and by their friends are supposed to have it. All such cases yield to the proper and only correct course of treatment, and in a short time are made to rejoice in perfect health.
Middle-Aged Men.
There are many men of the age of thirty who are troubled with too frequent evacuations from the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of semen or spermen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and turbid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the SECOND STAGE OF SEMINAL WEAKNESS.
I can warrant a perfect cure in such cases, and a full and healthy restoration of the urinary organs.
Persons who cannot personally consult the Dr., can do so by writing, in a plain manner, a description of their diseases, and the appropriate remedies will be forwarded immediately.
All correspondence strictly confidential and will be returned, if desired.

LADIES will find it invaluable in all cases of obstructions after all other remedies have been tried in vain. It is purely vegetable, containing nothing in the least injurious to the health, and may be taken with perfect safety at all times.

CORNS, CORNS!
Life has its temptations, sorrows and trials, and the greatest of all, although not dangerous, yet it will be readily admitted, that Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails and other ailments of the feet are a source of great annoyance. Do you suffer, cut and dig at them, at every changing atmosphere they will still send their piercing darts forth like flashes of lightning in sharp, piercing, and unrelenting pain. They torment a person to a greater degree than other affections. Dr. J. Briggs, the well-known Chiropodist has produced safe and reliable remedies, Alleviator and Curative. Sold by Druggists.

PILES, PILES,
A very common affection, there being but few persons who are not troubled with them at some period of their life. The disease exists in small tumors in the rectum or about the anus, which are divided into, first, those which are owing to a distended state of the veins of the part, and second, those which present the character of a solid tumor. When the tumors are within the rectum, they are called internal piles: when without, and around the anus, external. When they discharge blood they are termed bleeding piles; a dull one blood appears, blind piles; and excessive itching about the anus, itching piles. Nothing equals BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES for their cure. Sold by Druggists.
